Why we're coming together

Connected by purpose

Numerica and SELCO share a deep commitment to members, communities, and financial well-being. We're both here to help our members live well.

Driven by opportunity

Combining our strengths and resources creates opportunities to expand access, invest in technology and services, and strengthen the member experience.

Stronger communities

Together, we have an opportunity to deepen our impact in the communities where our members and employees live, work, and serve.

Two Pacific Northwest credit unions. More opportunity to help our members thrive.

Combining the strengths and resources of two mission-aligned organizations opens more possibilities for members, including:

- Enhanced technology, products, services, and experiences that can make banking easier and help our members reach their financial goals.

- Expanded branch and ATM network, with 38 branch locations spanning three states.
- Greater community impact and community partnerships.
